Freedom Unlimited is proud to introduce Mark Brandemuehl, Chief Marketing Officer for Movoto, Inc. We are pleased to have him facilitate our “Finding & Buying Homes with the Internet” Workshop, reviewing online tools available to help search homes for sale, evaluate fair prices, find a great real estate agent and research foreclosures.

There are a variety of great online tools and Mark will review the different types of tools and what specific websites are useful for. The course is interactive. Check out the websites while receiving an explanation what each is for and how best to use them.

He joined Movoto shortly after it started and has helped grow the company to a successful real estate search destination website with coverage in 7 states and 650,000 visitors per month.

He is experienced in web analytics, web advertising, search engine marketing, public relations and affiliate programs.
